FAIL TO END DEADLOCK ON SHIP PASSAGE

Dardanelles Conference May Collapse Because of Divergencies of Opinion
RUMANIAN DELEGATE CRITICIZES BRITISH

MONTEUX, Switzerland, July 9 (AP).—The Dardanelles conference still was deadlocked tonight as the Rumanian delegate departed for home.

Foreign Minister Nicolas Titulescu delivered an attack on the British stand in regulating warship passage through the straits and then left for Bucharest to "claim his home opinion."

CONFERENCE MAY FAIL
The conference was practically suspended until Monday to give the delegates time to think the situation over. One delegate said he wouldn't be surprised if the conference "cracked up" due to critical divergencies of opinion.

The conference deadlock started when Russia introduced an amendment throwing the Dardanelles open, even in war time, to all warships operating against a state which the League of Nations branded an aggressor and which were fulfilling the decisions of regional ententes.

AMENDMENT UNACCEPTABLE
Great Britain said the amendment was unacceptable and announced the question must be referred to London.

In his speech Titulescu accused the British representatives of favoring regional pacts at Geneva and at the same time trying to undermine regional pacts and collective security at Montreux.

MERCURY RISES TO NEW RECORD

Heat Wave in Province of Ontario Takes Toll of Life And Property

TORONTO, July 9 (AP).—Ontario reeled today under the second staggering blow dealt by a record-breaking heat wave only two days old.

A death toll of five—two attributed directly to the heat—was counted. Temperatures soared to new all-time highs as farmers reckoned untold loss to crops and cities took official notice of a water shortage that threatened to become serious.

SOME INDUSTRIES closed their plants as a safety measure for the workers. Farmers again abandoned their fields. Sleeping was a problem. Many of the thousands who flocked to beaches remained all night.

Forest fires allied themselves with the heat wave and struck anew at weary fighters in the north.

SWEEP BY FIRE
Two blocks of Toronto's suburban Simco were swept by a $250,000 fire that supposedly started from spontaneous combustion in a haymow.

Temperatures of more than 100 degrees were commonplace in Ontario cities. In Toronto the meteorological bureau recorded a maximum of 105 degrees in mid-afternoon—half a degree higher than yesterday's top that displaced a twenty-five-year-old mark of 103.

Reports came from Hamilton that the mercury there touched 105.2. Brantford recorded 105 and Simco 104. Ottawa was a "cool" spot at 80.

Premier Is Delayed by Heavy Rain

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., July 9 (AP).—Premier Pattullo, on a flying trip to the northern part of the Province, was still held here tonight as a heavy rainstorm prevented his departure for the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The flying Premier intends to leave tomorrow morning, weather permitting, for Alaska, en route to Yukon and far northern points of British Columbia. He will visit the Queen Charlotte later.

Victoria's Gain In Visiting Cars Beats Vancouver

CUSTOMS figures, for the first six months, ending June 30, show that Vancouver experienced an increase of 15 per cent in the number of United States automobiles, as compared with the number of visiting cars for the same period in 1935, while the number of passengers in the cars had increased by 19 per cent.

PACT CHECKS MONARCHISTS

Seven-Point Accord Reached Between Austria and Germany—Italy Assists

VIENNA, July 9 (AP).—Germany and Austria, strongly prompted by Italy, have reached an extensive accord which would temporarily prevent a Hapsburg restoration, diplomatic quarters believed tonight.

Legitimists, however, were still keeping up a show of courage in face of a seven-point accord in principle, worked out in negotiations between Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg and Franz von Papen, German Minister to Austria.

PROMPTED BY ITALY
A source close to Italian and German diplomatic circles said the negotiations, now in the third week, almost broke down, but after promptings by the Italians, the two nations were on substantial agreement on these seven points:

1. Nazi Party ban in Austria to be continued.

2. National elements (friendly extension of German, but not necessarily of Nazi influence) to be permitted activity.

3. National elements to be included in Austrian Cabinet, not later than next fall.

4. Germany's willingness to support all Austrian measures aimed at equality, which might, for example, include the building up of the Austrian army to 400,000 or 500,000 men.

5. Amnesty for persons convicted of or in concentration camps for Nazi activity.

6. At least a part of Austrian Nazi refugees now in Germany to be allowed to return home without risk of unemployment.

7. Efforts to reach normalization including lifting of Germany's 1,000-mark visa requirements for Germans going to Austria. (This has hurt Austrian tourist trade.)

EXPECT ORDER TO MAKE WAR

Chiang Kai-Shek May Receive Mandate to Proceed Against Kwangsi

NANKING, July 10 (AP).—A virtual mandate to launch war against recalcitrant Kwangsi Province was expected to be handed to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at an emergency session today of the Kuomintang central executive committee.

One hundred and fifty Kuomintang stalwarts from all parts of China—loyal to the National Government and willing to follow every Chiang Kai-Shek bidding without questioning—comprised the session called to formulate Nanking's reply to the insurgency of the Southwestern Chinese Government.

Britain and France Confer on Policies

The echo of this Paris meeting was heard in Geneva when both Anthony Eden and Premier Leon Blum of France made addresses that were distinctly anti-Italian in tone and spirit. Left to right, are Yvon Delbos, the new French Foreign Minister; Leon Blum, France's Socialist Premier; Sir George Clerk, British Ambassador to France, and Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary.

Leading Cowboy Thinks Bucking Horses Are Going "Sissy"

CALGARY, July 9 (AP).—Bucking horses are going "sissy" on the wild-riding busters at the Calgary Stampede and Harry Knight, ace rider from Banff, Alta., thinks something should be done about it.

Harry, who took top money today in both the North American open and Canadian bronk-riding events, had to have three horses before it was declared "a ride."

The first two failed to live up to reputations of big, bad horses. The third, an outlaw, proved a sure-fire trouble maker. Harry stayed the limit, but it was a tough ride.

ASK PROMISE BE FULFILLED

French Factory Owners Call On Government to Evacuate Strikers

PARIS, July 9 (AP).—Employers in several French cities called upon the Government tonight to make good its promise to evacuate strikers from factories by using police "without bayonets."

A QUICK REQUEST
Soon after Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro told Socialist deputies he would use armed force "with care" if other means failed, Chambers of Commerce in Nimes and Limoges and local authorities in the Norman city of Brieux asked the Government to clear out stubborn strikers.

DISCORD GROWS
Growing discord within the ruling popular front appeared at a meeting of Leftist deputies, with some radical Socialists charging Communists were "at the bottom" of the strike trouble.

Salengro, repeating his promise to evacuate factories, warned of a possible Rightist attempt to create disorders on Bastille Day, July 14. He said Colonel Francois de La Roque, chief of the dissolved Croix de Feu, had agreed to keep his followers calm, but that "agitators" within the ranks of the organization "no longer are willing to submit to discipline."

CEREMONY AS USUAL
The minister added that he had planned to cancel the Bastille Day ceremony of rekindling the flame at the tomb of the unknown soldier, but that military authorities had persuaded him to permit the ceremony to take place as usual.

The new minister was accompanied by Mrs. Bruce as he landed from the liner Empress of Britain. They plan to visit relatives in Montreal and St. Andrews, N.B., before Mr. Bruce goes to Ottawa to confer with his predecessor, Hon. Herbert Marler.

British Columbia Decides to Appeal On Three Rulings

Marketing Law, Farmers' Relief and Trade Practice Decisions by Supreme Court of Canada to Be Tested in London by Hon. G. M. Sloan

Appeals to the Privy Council will be taken by J.H. Province of the Supreme Court rulings affecting the Natural Products Marketing Act, the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangements Act, and Section 498A of the Criminal Code dealing with unfair trade practices.

Application will be made in London, England, immediately by J.W. de B. Parke, K.C., on behalf of British Columbia for the setting down of three appeals before the judicial committee of the Privy Council at probably its Fall term.

BROTHER BORN TO QUINTUPLETS

Mrs. Dionne Becomes Mother Of Healthy Eight-Pound Boy

CALLANDER, Ont., July 8 (AP).—In the little domestic bedroom of a Northern Ontario farmhouse a boy was born today to Elsie Legros Dionne. It was the same room in which two years and fifty-one days ago a "modern fairy tale" occurred—birth of the world-renowned quintuplets.

The eight-pound boy—as yet unnamed—came into the world a healthy little soul. Both he and the mother are "exceptionally well," said Dr. J. E. J. Joyal, who delivered this first child born to the Dionnes since the quintuplets.

Dr. Joyal was summoned from North Bay last midnight, on first indications that birth was imminent. Nurse Della Charette hurried the two and a half miles from Callander. At 3:25 a.m.—E.S.T., the latest Dionne was born. Elsie and Oliva were delighted. It is only the third boy in the family. There are eight girls.

LABOR GAINS IN DERBY ELECTION

Noel Baker Defeats National Labor Candidate in Thomas' Old Seat

DERBY, England, July 9 (AP).—Labor gained a seat in the House of Commons tonight. Philip Noel Baker, the Labor candidate, defeated Major A. O. Church, National Labor, in a straight party fight for the seat relinquished by J. H. Thomas, former Colonial Secretary.

The result of the by-election was as follows: Noel Baker, Labor, 28,419; Church, National Labor, 23,666.

Thomas, who resigned as a result of the budget leak, had held the seat for a quarter of a century and in the last general election was returned by a majority of more than 10,000.

Pioneer of Cariboo Unveils Cairn to Mark Historic Site

Judge Howay Sketches History of Events Commemorated at Alexandria Flats—Bruce McKelvie Pays Tribute to Historic Sites Board

(Special to The Colonist)

QUESNEL, July 9.—A cairn, erected on Alexandria Flats, thirty-five miles below here, by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada to mark the site of old Port Alexandria, now entirely obliterated, and marking Sir Alexander Mackenzie's farthest point in the descent of the Fraser River on his Canada-by-land journey in 1793, was unveiled by Harry Moffat, Cariboo pioneer, who reached Victoria aboard the steamer-Pacific on May 24, 1875, and Cariboo the following year.

Speaking to a large audience gathered there by the side of the Cariboo road and the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, on a slight knoll overlooking Alexandria Flats and the muddy waters of the Fraser River below the crest of the hill Judge Howay, F.R.C.S., sketched briefly the history of the Northwest company which built Port Alexandria in 1821, and related something of Mackenzie's journey to the Pacific, when he was persuaded to turn back from this point on the

RAISING MONEY FOR ATHLETES

Olympic Fund Committee to Stage Jamboree on Show Boat Tomorrow Night

The Show Boat will be turned over to the Victoria Olympic fund committee tomorrow night, when they will stage a jamboree aboard in an endeavor to raise a substantial sum to help finance the city's athletes at the Olympic trials in Montreal and to help them further their progress toward Berlin.

Music, singing, dancing, acrobatics and humorous entertainment will be presented by a number of local entertainers, commencing at 8 o'clock and continuing for two hours.

EXPRESS APPRECIATION
Duncan MacBride has been working industriously, preparing a programme that will prove a delight to young and old. Members of the Olympic committee have expressed their thanks to him and to the Tourist Trade Development Association for the use of the Show Boat, as well as to the artists who will perform.

Among those who will contribute to the entertainment are Curley's Harmonious Harpers, Miss Gladys Mavis and her English Show Boat Pierrots and Pierrettes, Miss "Pat" Beasley, Miss Betty Claire, James Matheson, Clarence Kirchen, Mrs. Frank Shandley, Mrs. C. W. Wain, Miss Lillian Fry (Toronto), and Douglas Park.

A feature of the show will be an acrobatic act by Leonard Oliver and his troupe, including Miss Mary Sparrow, Miss Irene Brockington, Miss Frances Borde, Miss Doreen Borde, Miss Christine Reid, Miss Irene Holmes, Miss Betty Cull, Miss Katie Mann, Miss Phyllis Beschiza, and Christopher McRae.

NO RESULT WHEN PROBLEM VIEWED

After deliberating for over an hour in an attempt to reach an agreement over building a raft in Prospect Lake, the Sanich Council closed the debate, no farther ahead than when it started. The council divided on a motion and an amendment, both being lost.

Ken Reid, speaking for a group of young men who wished to erect a chute and high-diving board on a raft, was opposed by G. W. Morris and N. McGillivray, property owners at the end of the lake where the raft is located. They termed the whole thing a "nuisance."

Councillors Leslie Passmore, A. G. Lambbrick, E. C. Warren and John Watson said the matter was out of council jurisdiction and should be handled by the Provincial Government. They, accordingly, supported a "no action" motion.

Reeve William Crouch and Councillors W. R. Woods, H. D. Colton and L. C. Hagan voted for the "no action" motion, to try and bring the opposing factions together. When the vote on the "no action" motion and the committee amendment was recorded it was found both had been defeated.

DECIDES TO APPEAL ON THREE RULINGS

Attorney-General Sloan, K.C., will go to London later, to speak to the appeals in person.

IN ACTION A BLOW
Lack of any action by the Dominion Government to actively support market control schemes has caused considerable disappointment in Provincial circles here. While the Dominion is to appeal four labor measures, absence of any intention to move in connection with marketing law is being interpreted by the Province as an indication that if British Columbia wants to continue marketing schemes, it will have to move to their defense itself.

Announcing the decision of the Province to appeal the Supreme Court of Canada's finding on the Natural Products Marketing Act, Hon. K. C. Macdonald said: "If the Federal Government is not willing to appeal this ruling, the text of which leaves British Columbia completely in the air, we feel it incumbent on the Province to do so. We are going to carry the appeal to the Privy Council direct, and will make application immediately through J. W. de B. Francis, K.C., who is now there. Meanwhile, we propose to go ahead with the re-constitution of such marketing boards as ask to continue under our own law."

FARM RELIEF BILL
Meanwhile, Attorney-General Sloan announced that the Province would appeal two other rulings affecting Federal law. British Columbia's objection to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act is that the measure would adjust farm debts on which the Province is itself the creditor, and also affect Provincial rights of taxation.

Provincial objection to Section 498A of the Criminal Code, dealing with unfair trade practices, is also based on complaints of interference with Provincial rights.

Application to set down the British Columbia appeals will be the next step in the issue. It is expected that Mr. Sloan will go to England this fall to argue some of the appeals in person.

RESIGNS AFTER UNIQUE CAREER

Miss M. Pauline Haarer Taught for Forty-Six Years in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, July 9.—One of this province's pioneer teachers, Miss M. Pauline Haarer, tendered her resignation to the Nanaimo Board of School Trustees last evening. The resignation was regrettably accepted.

Miss Haarer, of Virginian parentage, came to Nanaimo as a child from California and began teaching in August, 1880, at the age of sixteen. There were no normal schools in the province at the time and since she was two years under the age limit prescribed by the Council of Public Instruction, a special permit to teach was obtained. Miss Haarer at that time had no training as a teacher. She has given forty-six years of continuous service to the city and has never taught elsewhere.

WONDERFUL RECORD
While owing to bereavement it was necessary to be absent from school, she has missed only half a day in twenty-eight years through sickness.

At the present time on the staff of the city schools there are fifteen teachers whom Miss Haarer taught during their elementary schooling. In her first class, in the primary grade, there were 214 pupils enrolled for the year. Though the by-laws were somewhat lifted by promotions in December of that year, Miss Haarer nevertheless successfully taught the children. The veteran teacher has been head of the Thomas Hodgson School since its establishment.

The resignation of Miss Mary McGregory was also accepted.

The board will call for applications for two high school teachers, to teach French and English, one junior high school music teacher and two teachers for Grade V and Grade VI.

SAYS DEEP COVE ANSWER TO DREAM

David Manners, Movie Actor, to Bring Clarke Gable and Others to Island Centre

Victoria Show Boat was also endorsed by Mr. Chambers, who pointed out that open-air shows, such as the "Symphonies Under the Stars," in Hollywood Bowl, which draws 240,000 persons in an eight-week season, and the Pilgrimage Play Theatre, which presents the life of Christ, are first-class tourist attractions.

The visitor also spoke of the waterfront along Dallas Road as an undeveloped tourist paradise.

The farther north they traveled the better they liked it and Victoria was the climax—for Mr. and Mrs. Phil C. Riley and their daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Fuller, Oakland. Mr. Riley is manager of the Hotel Lexington, in Oakland, in which Mr. Fuller is also interested. They are staying at the Empress Hotel.

Although somewhat disappointed in Vancouver's Jubilee attractions, the party enjoyed the beauty of the city. Victoria, for them, has no drawbacks. They are intrigued with the English atmosphere here and the antique shops, which they intend to visit.

Oakland is enjoying a good tourist season, with much convention business, Mr. Riley reported.

While watching several motorists carrying their cars past stop signs and abusing their privileges, T. J. Goodlake, secretary of the Victoria Automobile Club, remarked yesterday: "It is up to local motorists to be particular in their observance of traffic by-laws and driving courtesies during the presence of so many visiting cars."

To Abolish Purchasing Restrictions

ROME, July 9 (CP-Havas).—The Italian Government tonight decided to abolish all restrictions on domestic consumption of commodities imported from countries which participated in the League of Nations' sanctions campaign.

The measure will go into effect on July 16, one day after League members are officially scheduled to lift the sanctions which were imposed during the Italo-Ethiopian war.

VALUE OF RAINS NOT DETERMINED

Cooling Breezes Give Hopes of Heavy Showers to Save Prairie

WINNIPEG, July 9 (P)—Cooling breezes came to Manitoba tonight in the wake of light, scattered showers as Western Canada's prairie farmers and city folks hoped for a break in the hot spell.

Value of the rains, light in most places, was still undetermined. Winnipeg showed the effect of drought throughout the southern stretches of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Winnipeg's rainfall was only a sprinkle. Other points receiving showers in Southern Manitoba included Virden, Brandon, Boissevain and Russell. In Southern Saskatchewan showers fell at Assiniboia, Swift Current, Mooseomin and Yellowknife. The only point in Alberta reporting moisture was Lethbridge, where a very light shower occurred.

Minute Interviews

"I have been all over, but I never before saw anything so lovely as Victoria. I am indebted to the steamship company for allowing us a little time to stay here. You may be assured, I'm coming here for my entire holiday next year," declared W. H. Kindig, member of the Los Angeles City Council, recently.

As chairman of the parks and recreation committee, Mr. Kindig took a special interest in the gardens and Beacon Hill Park.

Generosity of Victorians in throwing open their gardens to visitors was highly commended yesterday by Don Chambers, publicity director of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, who is staying at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Chambers.

He thought this courtesy would be the means of attracting a great many lovers of beauty to the city, the equal of which he has never seen, he said.

Victoria Show Boat was also endorsed by Mr. Chambers, who pointed out that open-air shows, such as the "Symphonies Under the Stars," in Hollywood Bowl, which draws 240,000 persons in an eight-week season, and the Pilgrimage Play Theatre, which presents the life of Christ, are first-class tourist attractions.

Wave Sweeps Deck and Craft Founders on Coast of Spain

BILBAO, Spain, July 9 (AP).—At least fifteen fishermen perished today in one of the worst storms reported off the northern coast of Spain in twenty years.

Eleven were lost when the fishing boat Joven Republica, founded near Bermeo and four others, were swept from the deck of the fishing boat San Francisco by a huge wave. Of eleven boats in the fishing fleet off Candás, eight were missing. It was feared other craft might be lost, including three fishing boats reported missing off Gijón.

THE WHEAT OUTLOOK

One of the most hopeful indications for the marketing of forthcoming wheat crops and the securing of good prices is found in the estimate of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics that the world wheat surplus is now as low as 388,000,000 bushels, the lowest in nine years. Last year the wheat surplus of Australia, Canada, Argentina and the United States was 532,000,000 bushels; in 1934 it was 741,000,000 bushels, and in 1933, 789,000,000 bushels.

The low wheat surplus, as compared with recent years, is a hopeful augury for the marketing of the crops of the coming harvest. Canada, during the last cereal year, which commenced on August 1, 1935, has exported 205,000,000 bushels of wheat and wheat flour, as compared with less than 205,000,000 bushels for the whole of the previous cereal year. It is anticipated that by the end of the present month the total exports for current year will have reached 250,000,000 bushels. This country has now replaced Argentina as the leader in the wheat export market.

The situation that has developed is not only one of comfort to the Prairie farmers, but to the country as a whole, since the prosperity of Canada is based on agriculture. The difficulties which beset the marketing of wheat for so long, owing to the piling up of such enormous surpluses in the producing countries, have largely vanished, and the product is moving steadily again. Nothing is more liable to contribute to a healthier economic outlook. So far as this country is concerned, it will mean an increased favorable balance of trade, and, therefore, more money in circulation at home.

LONDON NAVAL TREATY

The latest Naval Treaty has been made inoperative through the decision of Japan not to adhere to it. Japan, it may be recalled, left the Naval Conference in London, refusing to discuss any treaty of naval limitations which did not contain the provision for a common upper limit of naval tonnage. Moreover, Japan put forward a proposal which was refused by the United States. The Conference proceeded without Japan and reached an agreement incorporated in a treaty. The pact, however, must necessarily become largely inoperative now that Japan will not adhere to it.

One provision made by the Treaty was the reduction in calibre of capital ships' guns from 16-inch to 14-inch. That will go by the board. Similarly there will be no "holiday" in the building of A-class cruisers. Now it is Japan that, if she is so determined, would set the pace in qualitative increases in any class of warships. That she will do this is unlikely, as she made it clear at the Conference that she has no intention of initiating a race in naval armaments. The new decision to disclaim the London Naval Treaty need not alter her conceptions about defence.

The 1936 Naval Treaty only comes fully into force if its substance is accepted by the principal naval Powers, and all must accept, even those who are not parties to the pact. In order to reach a full agreement, negotiations have been initiated with Germany and the Soviet Union, and have been making satisfactory progress. It is conceivable that some bilateral arrangement may be made with Japan, despite her latest decision. There is still hope of conformity in naval practice between the Great Powers.

THE RECKLESS DRIVER

A British authority on motoring, commenting upon the appalling loss of life on the highways and byways of every country, offers a suggestion which, although he fears that there is not much chance of its being adopted, is nevertheless well worth serious consideration. It is simply that proper casualty lists might be regularly published in all leading newspapers, exactly as they would be in a war, full names, and addresses of the killed and injured would be printed with such brief but essential detail as might be available. It hardly needs any argument to make it clear that a weekly list of names of the killed and injured would make an impression upon most readers. Such lists, containing names of persons known to them, would effectively keep before their minds the risks they run daily. In the case of the injured a reasonable amount of detail should be given. Even those habitually-dangerous and anti-social persons, the habitually-reckless driver, the road-hog, and the jay-walker would be impressed to some extent on reading these regularly-recurring news items.

The motoring authority mentioned above declared recently that in many years' driving in many countries he had never seen such dangerous behavior as he had during the last month. The dangerous conduct spoken of occurred on roads and streets in England, but it is worth while to reproduce the story here in order that Canadian readers may ask themselves how far the description applies to local conditions of driving. He says that the risks that are taken are incredible, as is the escape of those involved. He mentions some of the "notorious crimes" that are committed hourly wherever traffic is thick, cutting in on the wrong side, "shaving," driving too fast on greasy surface or in poor visibility, and overtaking at high speed.

Yakovlev, who was watching the road-hogs "conducting themselves after the manner of their kind," he wondered if any of them had ever read the Code of the Road, or the daily tale of horror in the newspapers. A specific case had better be given in his exact words. It was "the case of the driver who 'shot the lights' at the western end of the Cromwell Road, cut in on the near side of my waiting car, found the apparently unsuspected kerb-corner beyond, missed the man who stepped off it by a hair, skidded across my bows in the resultant swerve, just hitting them, grazed the refuge in the middle of the road because he knew little about steering and less about away, 'revved' up his noisy engine and went on. Even if he had heard what was said about him by those present it would probably have had no effect on him. And he is only one." The writer above quoted is clearly of opinion that the chief menace to the safety of the streets and roads is the "reckless" driver. No doubt nearly every careful driver has observed some striking examples of recklessness on the part of irresponsible persons. Want of judgment on the part of pedestrians is, of course, a factor to be considered. In crossing streets and in using the highways generally some pedestrians do not always make full allowance for the difficulties which beset the path of the well-intentioned driver.

DELINQUENT HOME-OWNERS

The plan adopted in Vancouver to allow home-owners who are delinquent with their taxes to work for the city to enable them to earn money to prevent their properties from reverting has a good deal to commend it and should be adopted in a specific way in this city. There is no problem facing the two chief municipalities in this Province calling more insistently for a remedy than that of the very large amount of property which has reverted to municipal ownership. The solution is one that should engage prolonged municipal attention; and not merely be alluded to apocryphally and regarded as something that is inevitable.

It is heavy taxation that, in the main, has led to reverted land in Western municipalities. It is because of heavy taxation that some of these municipalities are facing bankruptcy, and those in control are at their wits' end to know what to do. One thing to do is to get more property into the tax-paying column, and to put a period to reversions of land. Vancouver is evidently awake to the importance of this, and will give those citizens who are home-owners and delinquent an opportunity to meet their municipal taxes by providing them with work. That plan is one of sound common sense. To the extent that it can be it ought to be made a cardinal principle of municipal administration wherever there are delinquencies among home-owners.

SOUTH AFRICA AND DEFENCE

South Africa, by virtue of its geographical position, would seem comparatively free from any threat that war might bring, yet the leaders of thought there are urging defensive measures. There is a proposal that Capetown should be made one of the great naval bases of the world. General Smuts says: "We do not possess a single ship which could ward off those aircraft carriers that could land enough airplanes on our shores to wipe out our large cities in a few hours. When I refer to such a possibility, I am not referring to an imaginary danger, but a very real one."

There is a prevalent opinion in South Africa that in the case of a major war in which Great Britain were involved, the Union would offer an attractive bait for an avicious nation. General Smuts believes there is a possibility of the Cape becoming the half-way house between Europe and the East, as it was in the days before the opening of the Suez Canal. There is as well the underlying knowledge that Great Britain's resumed naval and military preparations are inseparable by a knowledge of possibilities, if not certainties, of trouble in Europe before many years have passed. South Africa is willing to do her share, as every part of the Empire should be equally willing.

The Literary Digest says Mr. Alfred M. Landon, the Republican nominee for President, answers the description of the average American. "He stands five feet nine, weighs 170, is married, has three children, smokes a pipe, likes the movies, plays bridge, has never been abroad. He is forty-eight, has brown eyes, a likeable smile and silver hair. He walks to his office at 8.30 every morning, lunches at home on soup and salad, and, of an evening, may slouch on the veranda swing and talk politics with the neighbors."

Pretty Somenos Wedding Unites Popular Couple

Miss Anne Veronica Staples Becomes Bride of Mr. Richard Lendrum Before Large Gathering—Will Make Home in Duncan

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Somenos, yesterday afternoon, when Rev. A. Bischlager united in marriage Anne Veronica, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nigel H. Staples, and Mr. Richard Lendrum, second son of the late Mr. E. Lendrum and of Mrs. A. Godfrey, of New Westminster. The church was beautifully decorated with Madonna lilies and sweet peas, by friends of the bride, under the direction of Misses Helen Huby and Teresa Thorburn. Mrs. R. H. M. Shaw was at the organ.

The bride was given away by her father, and made a lovely picture in her wedding gown of rich white lace over silk, made with a high neckline, with Gibson-girl sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. The skirt was floor length, with a cascade of lace from the waist and finished with a circular flounce from the knees. Her lovely veil worn coronet fashion, was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of pale pink Sweetheart roses.

Her two attendants, her sister Miss Flora Staples, and Miss Joan Duncan, wore pretty form-fitting frocks with flaring skirts with attractive jackets finished in fine pleating, and becoming picture hats.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. Godfrey, Miss Joan Godfrey and Mrs. Ward, of New Westminster; Dr. and Mrs. McNaughton, Mrs. Player and Miss Barbara Player, Misses Maude Worthington, Isabel Dee and Ella Creighton and Messrs. Ernest Pugh, and Frank Hall, all of Victoria.

Annual Camp Of C.G.I.T. to Open Friday

The annual Summer camp for the Canadian Girls in Training of Greater Victoria will open next Friday, with Miss Lillian Parfitt in charge. The girls will spend eleven happy and healthful days at the camp site at Gluz Lake. This is a lovely spot situated about twenty miles from Victoria in the Sooke hills. Girls from any part of the Island are invited to attend.

All registrations for this camp must be left at the Y.W.C.A. for Mrs. R. M. Plumb by Tuesday, accompanied by the fee, which is surprisingly reasonable—$7 only, for eleven days.

The camp programme, including Bible study, handicraft, sports, swimming, campfires and other enjoyable and instructive activities, has been carefully arranged by the camp director, Miss Lillian Parfitt, and her staff of capable leaders. Transportation has been arranged for those attending camp. The girls will meet at the Metropolitan Church, corner of Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue, at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of July 17, and proceed from there to Gluz Lake.

This is an opportunity for girls between the ages of twelve and eighteen years to spend eleven days of fun and fellowship in lovely surroundings and under fine Christian leadership. Girls who have been once, long to go again.

Oil Tresses To Make Neat

By GLADYS GLAD
"Way back in Cleopatra's time, it said permanent waving was not an unknown art. The permanent wave, however, was a pretty messy one. The Egyptian women would tie their hair around small bamboo rods and then coated each curl with mud from the banks of the Nile. Then the arrangement was permitted to bake in the hot sun for hours. And after the baking the mud was cracked off and the hair combed out.

Personally, I don't imagine that that prolonged sun-baking was particularly beneficial to the hair. For while sun and air are excellent for the hair and scalp in proper doses, over-exposure is as bad for the hair as it is for the skin. Of course, during the hot, beach-bathing Summer days the hair generally receives a good bit of sun-exposure. But the thing to do always is to give it some measure of protection from the sun's rays. And what with beach umbrellas, floppy beach hats and wide-brimmed straw hats, that isn't much of a task.

SPORTSWOMAN FORGETS

The big girl athlete who takes her tennis, golfing and swimming seriously, however, often refuses to be bothered with a hat. She's a regular Eleanor Holm when she's at the beach, a Helen Hills when she's on the tennis court, and Helen Hicks when she's on the golf links. She's out for sport, and forgets about her hair or any other part of her personal appearance.

However, there's a means of protection for even such women who don't want to bother with hats, bandanas, beach umbrellas and the like. That is the protection afforded by the use of a good hair oil. If you're going to the beach or intend playing tennis or golf, take a fine atomizer with you. Fill it with a good oil and then spray your hair lightly with it before you go out into the sunlight. Mineral oil which is one of the chief ingredients of most brillianines, is especially good for this purpose. Don't worry that your hair will appear greasy afterward, for you'll be surprised how quickly the sun will absorb that oil. And yet the oil will afford your hair sufficient protection to keep it soft and glossy and to prevent any discoloration.

SEE HOW BOBBY IS THRIVING ... SINCE THE DOCTOR PUT HIM ON ... ST. CHARLES!

No wonder this baby is thriving on Borden's St. Charles! Back of every tin is 79 years of experience in producing finer milks for infant feeding! Ever since 1857, when Borden first pioneered better milk for babies, everything that science and brilliant research could contribute has gone towards making St. Charles the safest, purest milk possible.

Grandmother and mother agree that nothing is too good for His Majesty The Baby! Their doctor agrees too—he prescribes St. Charles for its outstanding quality, and because he knows it is always more digestible. In addition, St. Charles is irradiated for the Extra Sunshine Vitamin D that builds sound teeth and attractive well-shaped bodies. Baby is responding with normal healthy growth—just as thousands of other Borden babies are now doing in every-day homes all over the country.

Mothers: Ask your doctor about Borden's St. Charles Irradiated Evaporated Milk for feeding YOUR baby. Use according to his directions.

ALTON ADRIFF; CREW RESCUED

Ship, Formerly U.S. Cruiser Chicago, if Floating Menace to Navigation

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP)—About twenty men were rescued at sea when the Alton, formerly the United States cruiser Chicago, was lost while en route here from Honolulu to be broken into scrap iron, the Chamber of Commerce Marine Exchange learned today.

The tanker, radioed it had conducted a search for the Alton within a ten-mile radius, but it was believed the vessel sank.

Ships were warned that the craft was a menace to navigation if it was still afloat.

Marine Exchange officials believed a skeleton crew of about twenty men was aboard the Alton, being brought to the American Iron and Metal Works, Oakland.

What Today Means

"CANCER" If July 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Do not be afraid to ask questions this day, for some valuable information is apt to be gained. Curiosity may get the best of discretion, and lead to a decidedly embarrassing situation, unless power is used to overcome it. In the mind, there is a vast difference between a desire to gain knowledge and simply prying to gratify insatiable curiosity. Deceit is one of the day's evils, and probably will be exposed, subjecting those who practice it, to a severe criticism that may be long remembered. The average business man probably will be susceptible to flattery, if it is tactfully applied. Friendly gatherings may bring an inter-change of thoughts that are likely to prove very valuable. Marriage and engaged couples must be careful not to offer frivolous excuses this day if they expect to have a peaceful evening.

If a woman and July 10 is your birthday, you have the gift of being able to express yourself clearly. You must believe in yourself if you progress is to be satisfactory. If necessary, look to your own work, when some work you are doing is not appreciated. Stick to your idea and in all likelihood you will win out. Do not allow superstition to influence your thoughts or actions. You may ultimately share in a large amount of money. Writing, teaching, lecturing, demonstrating and selling are among the activities in which you might excel. With you, marriage must not be simply a matter of convenience. It must be founded on unselfish love if it is to work out successfully.

The child born on July 10 generally as soon as it reaches the waking and talking age becomes a general favorite—and brings into the household an unlimited amount of joy and brightness. Its popularity will in all likelihood, always be one of the greatest blessings. If a man and July 10 is your birthday, courage, honesty and energy ought to be your outstanding characteristics. Demerits, building, zoology, journalism, education, work and law are channels through which prosperity might be won by you.

THE NOBLEST GIVING

But the noblest giving is not in gold, but in life itself. That sacrifice is the essential message of Bethlehem. It is far too easy to persuade oneself that one's duty is fulfilled by writing out a generous cheque for some worthy charity or by sending a hamper or two to poor people one knows. Yet one's responsibility remains—glowed over, it may be, for a moment, but certain to reappear like the initial writing of a palimpsest in the keen light of heaven.

BOBBY BREEN IS STAR AT DOMINION

Youngful Radio Singer Makes Debut in "Let's Sing Again"—George Houston in Cast

The fame and applause which Bobby Breen, carried by his golden-voiced tenor on Eddie Cantor's radio broadcasts follow him to the sound screen, on which the eight-year-old vocal marvel makes his bow in "Let's Sing Again," the current feature at the Dominion Theatre.

Once in a blue moon a delightful personality comes to the screen as an absolute sensation. Such is Bobby Breen. "La Donna e Mobile," from "Rigoletto," an air only attempted by finished singers, is sung with ease by Bobby, as well as "Santa Lucia," "Oh, Marie," "Lullaby," and the title song, "Let's Sing Again."

And a word about Bobby's magnificent dramatic talent! His performance as the orphan, whose voice is developed by a tent show routabout and is eventually reunited with a long-lost father, indicates a brilliant histrionic future for the boy. He acts with seasoned skill, confidence and an intelligent understanding of direction.

All the elements of good entertainment are embodied in "Let's Sing Again," making it excellent fare for young and old. There's comedy and moments of drama in the performance of the chief featured player, Henry Armetta, Italian dialectician, whose mere screen appearance evokes the laughs. George Houston, as Bobby's father, provides heart interest.

ATLAS "The Amateur Gentleman" man. Jeffery Farnell's world-famous romance of one of fiction's favorite adventures, is now showing at the Atlas Theatre with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in the title role and Elissa Landi as his co-star. Adapted to the screen by Clemence Dane, this thrilling and colorful tale offers young Fairbanks his greatest and most romantic role to date as a day-daring Barnabas Raby, who roamed the broad highway in the glorious days of Regency England.

PLAZA With rapid-fire romance, mance, drama and comedy, "Here Comes Trouble," the new Fox picture, arrived at the Plaza Theatre yesterday to tell a grand story of an English room-romance and his manicuring cutie in a ship full of jargonous luxury cruises. Lanky Paul Kelly, is the hero of this picture, while pert and vivacious Arline Judge proves a fitting romantic partner.

COLUMBIA How unscrupulous racketeers take advantage of people's inherent desire to gamble small earnings in the hope of winning fortunes is brought to light in the "Confidential," a picture featuring the activities of Uncle Sam's Secret Service Men now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

For a number of years I have spoken of the very satisfactory treatment used by Dr. Althoff, Berlin.

"The feet should be thoroughly washed with warm water, rinsed and dried. Then the soles and the skin beneath the toes are painted with equal parts of 35 per cent formaldehyde (the commercial formaldehyde purchased in drug or other stores) and distilled water. The solution should dry before the foot is covered. This treatment should be repeated three days in succession."

"The effect is prompt and lasts for four to six weeks, when the application should be repeated." The sweating and odor are often permanently cured.

Barrage of Circuit Blows Big Help as New York Goes Under—Trosky Clouts Pair of Them—Detroit Beats Senators—Red Sox Down Chicago—Cubs Take Double-Header

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were as hot today as the 102-degree temperature at Yankee Stadium, and slugged out an 11-4 triumph on five home runs, three of them in one inning to equal the American League record.

Two of the round trip clouts were by Hal Trosky, boosting his batting average to .300 for the season, to go into a deadlock with Jimmy Fox for the major-league lead.

His first four-bagger came in the big second inning, when he hit two for the season, to go into a deadlock with Jimmy Fox for the major-league lead.

Weatherly and Joe Vosmik also smashed out homers in the same frame.

Earl Averill was the other Indian home-hitter, getting his in the fifth, while Lou Gehrig hammered out his twenty-first of the year with a mate on base in the first inning.

Dusty Rhodes, who started on the mound for the A's, was relieved in the fifth by Kelly. Each of them allowed the Browns only three hits.

After Hogsett yielded ten hits to Philadelphia in six innings, Manager Hornsby put in Knott to stem the tide.

Trailing by one run in the last half of the seventh, the Athletics poked across two runs to forge ahead. They made victory doubly sure with another tally in the eighth to end their losing streak of twelve straight games.

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—The Cubs knocked at the door of the National League lead again today, advancing to within a half-game of first place by trimming the Brooklyn Dodgers in both ends of a double-header.

Despite a fine pitching performance by Van Mungo in the opener, in which he fanned eleven men to bring his total strikeout victims for the year to 104, the Cubs outlasted the Brooklyn to win, 4-3, in thirteen innings.

In the nightcap, with Phil Cavarretta hitting a homer and Frank Demaree getting four hits in four times at bat, Bill Lee came through with a 5-4 win.

Aspirants for Places on Canadian Squad

Gathered in Montreal from four corners of the Dominion, men and women, track and field athletes, are concentrating today and tomorrow upon winning places on the team which is destined to carry the Maple Leaf into Berlin's Olympiad Stadium in the early days of August. Despite widespread early pessimism at the general outlook for Canada's athletic stalwarts, team executives are confident that the Montreal trials will reveal talent as high in quality and quantity as has represented Canada at earlier Olympic Games. Among contenders of proven worth who will be fancied as probable winners of team berths in their respective divisions are the athletes shown here. As shown above, with the events they favor, they are: Aileen Meagher, of Halifax (left), women's 100 and 200-yard sprints; Phil Edwards, Montreal (left center), 880 yards; Margaret Bell, Vancouver (right center), women's high jump; Bob Dixon, Vancouver (lower center), javelin throw; and Sammy Richardson, Toronto (right), broad jump; hop step and jump, and possibly sprints.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP)—The Seals made it two in a row over the Portland Ducks by noosing the visitors, 3-2, in a well-pitched Pacific Coast League game here today.

Caster for Portland and Sheehan for the Seals both twirled live-hit games, but the home nips bunched sufficient safeties in the seventh inning to score all their runs and erase a two-run lead taken by the Ducks in the third and fourth frames.

Young Victorian Registers Decisive Victory in Women's 100-Yard Breast Stroke at Canadian Trials at Montreal—Bob Pirie Sets Third Dominion Record in as Many Nights

By ELMER DULMAGE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

MONTREAL, July 9 (AP)—Bob Pirie, of Toronto, clinched the Canadian Olympic swimming trials here tonight by setting a new 200-yard freestyle record for men, after Bobby Hamerton, of Winnipeg, had lowered Pirie's former mark of 2 minutes 21.2 seconds.

Pirie sat at the end of the Notre Dame de Grace tank and watched the slender Manitoban splash along to victory in the first semi-final heat in 2:18.4. So in the second heat Pirie covered the distance in 2:17.2.

In a furious final, with Bobby Hooper, of Vancouver, and Hamerton pushing him, Pirie was caught in 2:14.8. It was his third record of the three-night Olympic tryouts. The Toronto youngster broke the 220, 440 and mile records and also equaled his own 100-yard mark.

FINISHES FAST
Hooper came along to finish fast in the fourth final to take second place from Hamerton, Maurice Bourne, of Montreal, was fourth, and Ben Gazelle, of Toronto, fifth.

Mary McConkey, of Edmonton, won the women's 200-yard freestyle in decisive fashion, though the triumph lacked some of its lustre because the champion, Phyllis Dewar, of Vancouver, did not enter. Miss Dewar won the 100 and 400-yard events on the first two nights.

Miss McConkey defeated the favored Marjorie Stone and Marjorie Hutton, of Toronto, in 2:42, breaking away to start and holding a two-yard lead with ease.

While the women's 220 was not at an approximate Olympic distance, selectors watched the result closely. Miss Dewar and Irene Pirie Milton, of Toronto, were considered certain selections for the Olympic team.

Bill Puddy, of Toronto, former Canadian champion, also made a bid for recognition after losing in the 220-yard breast stroke event Tuesday night. Puddy defeated his conqueror, Gerald Clawson, of Toronto, by inches in the 100-yard final. His time was 1:09.6.

VICTORIAN WINS
In the women's 100-yard breaststroke, Monica Trump, of Victoria, won easily in 1:20. Miss Trump seemed reasonably sure to be selected, as she won the 200-yard breaststroke earlier and made it plain no one in Canada was in her class in that division.

A feature of the final programme was the women's 400-yard relay race won by Toronto Delphinets when the anchor swimmer of the British Columbia team, Miss Dewar, became tangled in a lane rope at the end of the tank. She had passed the Toronto anchor star Marjorie Hutton, but had to take second place after her delay.

DIVING EVENTS
Pretty Thelma Boughner, of Toronto, assured herself of a place on Canada's Olympic diving team today by taking the women's 10-meter diving title. Coupled with her win on the springboard it gave Miss Boughner a sweep of the women's diving events.

Fourteen-year-old George Athans, of Vancouver, brought himself before the Olympic selection committee with a clear-cut victory for the men's 10-meter diving championship.

The Vancouver youngster rolled up 62.93 points in eight dives and was well ahead of Johnny Casthroy, of Ottawa, who placed second with 47.01. Aurel Thomas, of Montreal, was third with 42.23 points.

Linda Adams, of Vancouver, a winner at the British Empire Games in 1934, finished only one point behind Miss Boughner, who had 26.20 points.

Montreal's Marjorie Bradshaw was third with 26.16 points, and Mary Shakes, of Calgary, after holding well in the early dives slipped to finish fourth with 21.93 points.

Olympic swim selection committee is still in session at hotel here with no definite indication as to which anticipated events expected.

Brighton Students Capture Ashburton Challenge Shield at Bisley

By THOMAS J. CHAMBERLAIN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

BISLEY CAMP, Surrey, July 9.—It was public schools day today at the National Rifle Association's meeting here and the honors went to Brighton College, who won the historic Ashburton Challenge Shield, and, in a lesser degree, to Marlborough, who won the Cadet Challenge Trophy.

The Suezee-Mellish Cup, which is fired immediately after the Ashburton Shield and is open to one competitor from each of the teams that have just shot. In that event, was won by Wellington's candidate whose score was 34. The distance is 500 yards with one sighting shot and seven to count.

The "Police force" event for the Mander Challenge Cup was won by a team of Birmingham "cops" who piled up a score of 269. This is an automatic pistol contest for teams of four from any police force and right rounds "deliberative" and right rounds "rapid" are fired by each member of the team at ten yards' distance.

Six straight-shooting Reds from Glasgow County came through in the NRA county championship shoot, knocking up an aggregate of 384. This is another service rifle event fifteen shots and one sighting shot being fired over 1,000 yards.

F. Jones, of the North London Blooming Club took the Albert event match rifles for fifteen shots at each distance over distances of 900, 1,000 and 1,100 yards.

One of the most exciting events of the day was the revolver shoot for the Hargrave Deane Challenge Cup shot by teams of three from units of His Majesty's forces. The Small Arms School scored once more in this contest.

The competition is fierce in heats of two teams each until a final is reached. Revolvers are loaded with six shots apiece and are then placed on a table. At the word "go" teams seize their weapons, race fifty yards to firing positions and empty them at rows of fifteen clay discs at fifteen yards distance.

Cricket Scores In Old-Country
LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Brilliant batting and bowling by Peter Smith, Essex star, enabled the county to defeat Somerset by an innings and five runs in the only English county cricket contest ended today. Smith hit out for 77 runs and allowed only 32 runs for four wickets.

32 runs were prevalent all over the country, with only three of the seven leagues ending series action. The Yorkshire Gloucestershire Leicestershire Lancashire Sussex and Kent-Glamorgans fixtures were rained out.

Worcestershire 127 and 84. Essex 120. Leicestershire, 230, Surrey, 15 for 180.

Closing scores in other games: Hampshire, 88 and 10 runs for two wickets. Derbyshire, 136 for eight, declared at Chesterfield. Nottinghamshire, 100. Northamptonshire, 130 for four, at Nottingham.

MOLECEY WINS SHOOT-OFF IN LIEUT.-GOVERNOR'S

Captures Honors At Heals Range In B.C.R.A. Meet

Defeats Willoughby and Grant With Perfect Score To Lift Douglas Cup and Medal—Mainlanders Continue to Dominate Events—Gwen Spencer Well Up in Lieutenant-Governor's

By SID THOMAS
Colonist Staff Representative
HEALS RANGE, July 9.—Continuing to display the brilliant marksmanship which heralded their arrival here Tuesday, visiting Vancouver rifle shots today gained the first five places in the Lieutenant-Governor's match, first stage.

Fired over three ranges, 200, 300 and 600 yards, with the leading thirty-six scores qualifying for the second stage tomorrow, the event produced some of the stiffest competition ever witnessed here. Three Mainland marksmen, Lieutenant G. A. Molecey, Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment), Sergeant L. C. Willoughby, Seaford Highlanders of Canada, and Fusilier Ian M. Grant, Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment), headed the large field with scores of 103 out of a possible 105. Further evidence of the keen battle for positions in the Lieutenant-Governor's Match is shown by the fact that eleven marksmen, tied with 96's, were forced to shoot-off for the last three places.

Of the thirty-six qualifiers, twenty-one are visiting rifle shots and the remaining fifteen are local marksmen.

SCORED POSSIBLES
Sergeant Willoughby and Fusilier Ian Grant put on perfect scores at each of the 200 and 300-yard ranges, while Lieutenant Molecey scored thirty-five at the short range and thirty-four from the longer distance. Willoughby and Grant dropped two points at the last range, 600 yards, while Molecey put on thirty-four.

In the shoot-off for the Douglas Cup and the B.C.R.A. medal, Lieutenant Molecey had a perfect twenty-five.

The cards:
Lieutenant Molecey ... 55555-25
Sergeant Willoughby ... 54444-13
Fusilier Grant ... 54444-14

In the Lieutenant-Governor's Team Match, shot concurrently with the first stage of this event, Garrison marksmen put on 779 out of a possible 840, and, incidentally, saved the Victoria shots from suffering another complete abject.

Miss Gwen Spencer, comely blond-haired woman rifle shot, who yesterday turned in a remarkable performance, was in form again today and posted 102 in the Lieutenant-Governor's to take sixth position.

Firing in the first half of the British Consols, No. 2 match, nine competitors posted 49's, one short of the possible, from the 300-yard range. They included G. L. Churchill, Lt. Colville, Lt. Col. R. M. Blair, Cpl. J. O'Sullivan, Fusilier Ian M. Grant, Cpl. G. M. Gibault, Cpl. J. Jones, all of Vancouver, and Miss Gwen Spencer and S.M. Ruffell, Victoria.

Lieutenant G. A. Molecey scored his second triumph when he captured the R.O.M.P. rapid fire match after a shoot-off with S.M. W. H. "Bully" Wood, Garrison Rifle Association. The competition calls for ten shots under service conditions at 300 yards, with a time limit of forty seconds. Both men scored thirty-eight in their first attempt, and in the re-fire the Mainlander bettered Wood's score by two points.

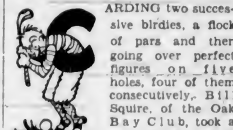

CAPTURES TROPHY
ACJ J. A. "Jack" Young, R.C.A.P. (N.P.), Vancouver, who is known all over British Columbia for his shooting ability with rifle and revolver, annexed the Parkhurst Trophy when he scored forty-seven out of a possible fifty. Lieutenant Molecey was second, one point behind the winner. Known to marksmen as the "popping dodger" the target is exposed for three seconds at a time. Ten shots are allowed, from the 300-yard firing position.

Machine gunners from the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment won the Vickers Machine Gun Match with a score of 88, with the P.C.C.L. "A" team in second place with 57, and the P.C.C.L. "B" squad third with 48.

Open to teams composed of a leader and three fireurs, the competition is fired from 400 yards. As the large army of marksmen went on the range this morning to resume shooting a bright sun shone

SQUIRE LEADS JUNIOR GOLF AT MACAULAY

Cards 75 to Take One Stroke Advantage Over Field in City Tourney

ARDING two successful birdies, a flock of pars and then going over perfect figures on five holes, four of them consecutively, Bill Squire, of the Oak Bay Club, took a one-stroke lead in the first round of the Victoria and District Junior golf championship yesterday at the Macaulay Point links, with a card of 76. He finished a single stroke in front of Charles Thomas and Lindsey Roach, of Uplands Club, who posted 77a. Tommy Ord shot a 78 to take the next position, and then came Bill McColl, Macaulay, and Jack Bagley, Oak Bay, with 80's.

Others within striking distance of the leader are Charles Carnegie, P. Rutherford and John Smith, who had 81's, said to have a chance to overtake the pace-setter when the final eighteen holes is completed today.

PLAYED GOOD GOLF
Squire, a young fellow but husky in stature, was hitting his shots with accuracy and distance. He parred six of the first nine holes and caged two under-par figures, at the long seventh and eighth, to reach the turn in 35, even par. A disastrous six, two over par, blasted his hopes of shattering perfect figures. After starting over the incoming route with 4, 3, 4, Squire went over par on the next four holes, but steadied himself, and finished off with a 4 and 3 for a 41.

His card follows:
Out ... 4 3 6 4 4 4 3 3 35
In ... 4 3 6 5 5 7 4 3 41-76

Other scores follow: Charles Thomas 77, Lindsey Roach 77, Tommy Ord 78, Bill McColl 80, Jack Bagley 80, Charles Carnegie 81, C. P. Rutherford 81, John Smith 81, Alec Simpson 86, Bob Clements 87, Archie Blakemore 87, W. R. Campbell 88, Dick Burkman 101, Alfred Jenkins 103, George Buckingham 104, Oswald Hinks 104, Julian McColl 106, Fred Jenkins 109, Claude Heggie 111, Jimmy Jenkins 115.

Today's draw and times follow:
9:00—W. Squire, Charles Thomas and Lindsey Roach.
9:05—Tommy Ord, Bill McColl and Jack Bagley.
9:10—Charles Carnegie, C. P. Rutherford and John Smith.
9:15—W. R. Campbell, Dick Burkman and Claude Heggie.
9:20—Alfred Jenkins, George Buckingham and Oswald Hinks.
9:25—Fred Jenkins, Julian McColl and Jimmy Jenkins.

Largely because he scored a decision over Ruko in a non-title scrap here last March, Steele was a 10-to-7 favorite tonight.

The Tacoma boy also has beaten two former champions. They were Gerilla Jones and Vince Dundee. Others who have held the crown since Walker were Ben Joy, Lou Brouillard and Teddy Yarosh.

The only disturbing factor in the big show—the biggest ever promoted in Seattle—was a forecast of "unsettled conditions" by the weatherman.

EVERYTHING SET
Promoter Nate Drumman, who guaranteed Risko $26,000 and Steele $10,000, said he saw no reason to even whisper about a postponement as the weather today was bright and warm.

"Everything is ready for the battle," said Drumman. "The show already is a success. I expect a crowd of at least 30,000, and a gate of something like $75,000."

Both battlers were pronounced in perfect physical condition after four weeks of outdoor training. They broke camp and rested today. When they weigh in tomorrow afternoon Risko is expected to have a three or four-pound edge. The champion likely will scale just under the limit of 160 pounds, with Steele tipping about 156 or 157.

On local pitches two friendly friendly games are carded. At MacDonald Park, Victoria, "B" will meet the Ingers while at Beacon Hill the Five C's and the Albions will battle.

All fixtures will commence at 2:15 o'clock.

The women's match scheduled for MacDonald Park has been postponed until next Wednesday. Teams from Victoria and Duncan will make their debut, and an interesting game is anticipated. The local eleven will be captained by Mrs. H. A. Tomalin.

Tomorrow's teams follow:
Victoria "A"—H. A. Goward (captain), C. Jones, F. Brewster, H. Edwards, J. R. Appleton, H. A. Tomalin, E. Gillespie, T. Peers, R. H. Vaughan, F. Barber, Starkey and F. Jordan.
"B"—J. F. Meredith (captain), W. R. Wilkinson, H. Wilkinson, V. Moore, J. Collett, J. H. Norton, Sellers, F. Mills, S. Mills, P. Nation and A. N. Othor.

Five C's—Griffin, Williams, Nixon, J. Payne, G. Payne, F. Mills, S. Mills, Whitehead, Yokell, Patch and Atwell.

The winner receives the honor of representing the club in the Provincial Championship of Champions contest for the Walter Chambers Trophy, the most highly-prized bowling honor in British Columbia.

Frank Holmes and George Vallance were matched in the final game, the latter obtaining victory by the narrow margin of 1 point, the score, after twenty-six ends, reading 30-21. Vallance thus obtained the position with seven straight wins to his credit.

Gehrig Hitting Homer

Winning the first game, 4 to 3, the National League is ahead of the American League in the annual baseball classic at the National League Park in Boston, Mass. The Nationals gained a margin by two two-run hits, the first off Bob Grove in the second inning and the other with Schoolboy Rowe pitching in the fifth. Lou Gehrig's home run in the seventh gained three runs for the Americans. Augie Galan scored a "home" for the Nationals. Joe DiMaggio, Yankee rookie outfielder from San Francisco, failed to hit in five trips to the plate. Photo shows Lou Gehrig scoring his home run in the seventh inning.

LARGE CROWD TO SEE BOUT THIS EVENING

Close to 30,000 Expected to Watch Risko and Steele Tonight

SEATTLE, July 9 (AP).—The midweight boxing crown that has bounced around on six heads since Mickey Walker relinquished it five years ago will be at stake again tomorrow night when Champion Eddie (Babe) Risko, of Syracuse, N.Y., tangles with Freddie Steele, of Tacoma, in a fifteen-round fight in the Seattle Baseball Park.

Largely because he scored a decision over Risko in a non-title scrap here last March, Steele was a 10-to-7 favorite tonight.

SANDOR SZABO TO SHOW HERE IN MAIN BOUT

Hungarian Will Meet Rudy Strongberg Tomorrow at Tillicum Gym

Handsome Sandor Szabo, clever Hungarian exponent of the mat game, and one of the leading contestants in the international world championship meet now in progress at Vancouver, will make his Victoria debut tomorrow evening at the Tillicum gymnasium.

Promoter Fred Richardson, local wrestling impresario, yesterday booked the mighty Szabo to meet Rudy Strongberg, German Adonis, in the main event of the weekly grappling card at the local palace of squirm. They will go eight ten-minute rounds, or the best two out of three falls.

MECHAN RETURNS
Pat Meehan, Edmonton boy and former Canadian heavyweight champion, returns in the semi-main event to oppose Jerry Monahan, former Royal Northwest Mounted Police officer, who hails from Toronto. The bout will be for five eight-minute rounds, or two falls.

The usual local preliminary will open the show at 8:45 o'clock.

Szabo and Strongberg are two of the mat game's best attractions and are headliners in any city. Their appearance here should attract more than the usual interest in the wrestling game, as it is the first time they have ever met in the Victoria ring.

Meehan, likeable Edmonton boy with the deadly drop-kick, has scored popular victories here, and will be the favorite with the fans in tomorrow's match.

TERRY TO RETIRE
ST. LOUIS, July 9 (AP).—Memphis Bill Terry, New York Giants' first baseman since the McGraw era, indicated today that his playing career is at an end. Terry said he probably will go on the voluntary retired list to make way for another active performer on the roster.

The Giants' manager did not say whether he would ever try a playing comeback, but he was certain that he will not be in action any more this season.

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"THE DIE IS CAST!" Did Caesar flip a coin before he crossed the Rubicon? Did he cry "even" or "odd" and then throw fingers? Or did he really decide?

By 50 B.C., Caesar and Pompey had been completely drawn apart. The death of Pompey's wife, who was Caesar's daughter, had severed the tie, but for which their enmity would long since have burst into the open.

Pompey, more and more fearful and jealous of Caesar's ambitions, conferred with Cato, Cicero and other members of the Roman Senate. And when Caesar's command in Gaul expired, they ordered him to return without his soldiers.

Disobedience meant death—unless—and this thought changed the course of the world's history—he could do as he pleased. The Rubicon was the boundary between Caesar's province and destiny.

Crying "the die is cast!" Caesar led his troops across the fateful stream—a deliberate declaration of revolution against the greatest republic of them all.

And after crushing all his enemies, and long reveling in the untrammelled power won by his sword, Caesar received the title "Pater Patriae"—Father of His Country!

SIGHT

The author of the Book of Ecclesiastes has told us that "the light is sweet, and it is a pleasant thing for the eyes to behold the sun." The sense of sight is indeed the highest bodily privilege, the purest physical pleasure, which man has derived from his Creator.

—S. Smith.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PRESENTS MANY PROBLEMS ON THE RANGE—ONE IS GIRL WHO CENTERS TOO MUCH ON ANTHOLOGY AND BOTANY—MESSAGE TO UNDECIDED FROM HOPEFUL.

Round Up. A.M. Of course the young man is human. He's a human being living in a physical as well as a spiritual world. I'm afraid, my dear, that you have become spiritually ingrown. You've concentrated too much on anthology and botany that you've neglected one of the real miracles of the universe—biology. Had you studied biology you would know that there is the hunger of the body as well as the hunger of the soul. No normal young man can be expected to wander through dew-drenched meadows contemplating beautiful sunsets and hearkening to the song of birds without himself thrilling to the voice of nature.

You love a man, not a god, and were I in your position I should take my head out of the clouds long enough to plant my feet on the earth, and I should say "He is my pal. He's human. I love him for what he is." You think too much about this about this about this. When ideals fly so high they become irreconcilable with the truth, with the facts of life, they are no longer ideals. They are phantasies. Human beings cannot live on phantasies. They must live on facts. Poetry and music are our inspiration for fact but living, not the whole of life.

In this case you should be less the idealistic poet and more the understanding woman.

SHOULD REPAY HER PARENTS. Undecided: Here is a message for you from Hopeful. "You are perfectly right in wanting to help your parents and repay the debt incurred for your education. The young man should respect your sense of honor and realize that an honorable daughter will be the sort of hundred per cent wife every real man wants and needs."

B.M.G.: Your husband has deserted you. His family does not like you because you object to making the home a gambling and drinking rendezvous. You are about to become a nobody. Go to the mayor of your town. Go to the ministers of the churches in your town. Go to the judge who sits in cases of domestic relations. Certainly, among all these agents in public service, you will find one who will give the help for which he or she is paid. You are well rid of the husband. Never allow him to come back into your life. A wife deserter is one thing, but a father who will desert his child, born or unborn, is a public menace. The beasts of the field do not desert their young. Ask your friends to help you find the way out of your difficulty. Demand legal aid. Demand it from your legal courts and from any welfare agency in your community.

BROKEN TRUTH BETTER THAN FAITHLESS HUSBAND. Worried Mother. The young man and your "lovely daughter" are in love. They are preparing to marry, building up a hope chest for their home. He bids her an early good night because he must be at work in the morning and needs his rest. Then, secretly, he goes to call on another girl, one of your daughters' alleged friends—before you "break your daughter's heart," speak to the young man. Tell him you know of his treachery and ask him for an explanation of his conduct. If his explanation is not satisfactory, you will have to tell your daughter the truth, for a broken truth is easier to bear by far than a faithless husband.

Unknown—Mrs. N.W.V. writes to tell you that the solution of your problem should not be difficult. Any woman of ordinary intelligence knows, she says, "that a man who promises marriage and keeps, putting it off, is a philanderer of the worst type—the type who takes the best years of a woman's life—lives—finds a younger companion and leaves the woman to work out her destiny alone. Accept the man who tries to make life worth-while for you and forget the gay Lothario who is full of bright promises and no action."

DIRECTORS PLAN CAMP INSPECTION

Y.M.C.A. Officials to Leave for Glinz Lake at 5 o'clock This Afternoon

Led by W. T. Straith, chairman of the Y.M.C.A. boys' work committee, a number of directors will leave the city at 5 o'clock this afternoon for a tour of inspection at the Glinz Lake Summer camp. F. V. Shoen, Wilson Inn, Deep Cove, residential inn on the sea, children dinners, teas. Phone 8101.

maker, camp superintendent, will be host at a dinner for the visitors. Fifty boys who enjoyed a week's holiday at the Sooke camp returned to the city yesterday in their praise of arrangements carried out to make their vacation a memorable one. A second contingent of fifty-one left for Glinz Lake, where they will remain until July 16. By means of a short-wave transmitter, donated by the Y.M.C.A. by Doyle McKinn, relatives and friends of the boys were communicated with regularly. Messages were handled by the Victoria Short Wave Club. A large number of official radiograms were also received at the Y.M.C.A. When camp breaks up, the transmitter will be installed at the Y.M.C.A. for use of the institution's radio club.

Million dollar flavour for a few cents

• A cent or two difference in price can make a vast difference in quality. Heinz Vinegars—White, Malt and Cider—are the true essences of choice fruits or grains, aged in wood. They are blandly pungent, enticing with deep, lingering flavour. A little goes so far you'll find the slight extra cost trifling compared with the value of the good foods you may spoil by using cheap, "green" vinegars. (Something to remember at pickling time!)

• Heinz Olive Oil, too, is in a class all its own. It is from the first pressing, only, of selected ripe olives, grown near the Heinz plant at Seville, Spain. Try it. If you like ready-to-use dressing, you'll find Heinz Mayonnaise or Heinz Salad Cream give the smoothness and zest that make salads "sing."

• Heinz Sandwich Spread—a combination of mayonnaise with minced pickles, olives, eggs, spices—belongs in every well-stocked pantry. Makes delicious sandwiches. Heinz "57" food products have earned their popularity by unwavering purity and honest flavour. Your dealer has them for you. Why not enjoy the best?

HEINZ HELPS FOR SUMMER MENUS

MIDNIGHT AND PERCY JONES by VINCENT STARRETT

SYNOPSIS
Riley Blackwood, dramatic critic of the Chicago Morning Chronicle with a detective story mind, is pored at his evening news on at a busy dinner by the girl, widow of a man who was killed in a car crash at 11:30 when she was driving home. But a chat with Philip Constance, the novelist, and dinner with him until Percy Jones, the country's most famous radio announcer, leaves the microphone. Riley does as requested, although he dislikes Percy, then says he must leave. CHAPTER II
"Well, it's murder or suicide, Mr. Blackwood!"

The police detective smiled his question across the silent woman on the bed. There was a hint of mockery in his dry inflections. His remarkable name was Rye.

"Murder, for choice," said Mr. Blackwood amiably. The wish was frankly parent to the thought, he realized. It had been some time since anything resembling a good murder had crossed his path.

Upstairs, the party he had deserted was waiting for his return. Waiting for tidings—the more horrible, he supposed, the better. Well, let them wait!

He glanced at a second bulky detective teetering in the doorway, and a familiar pucker gathered on his lips. Under his breath he whistled a few bars of his favorite melody, the staroato Habanera from "Carmen." It was the thing he whistled when he was perplexed.

The pucker vanished and was replaced by a shadowy grin. "Lucky for you fellows I happened to be upstairs," he commented. "Nothing like having a specialist on the spot at the beginning."

Detective Sergeant Netherole grunted. "Go ahead and specialize," he invited. "It looks like suicide on the face of it; but, after all," he added ironically, "we're only a couple of policemen."

"And speed it up," ordered his companion, in the same tone. "There'll be a flock of cops around here soon. And reporters. Not to mention about sixty-eight photographers." The prospect seemed to depress him.

Blackwood's glance returned to the body on the bed. Under the hard glare of the electric lights, Miss Rita Wingfield once an attractive member of the concert stage, was stretched in some disorder along the coverlet. She had not, however, begun to retire. In preparation, possibly, for that event, she had removed her shoes and put on satin slippers, but otherwise she was fully clothed. Her face, in death, was peaceful enough, save for a certain unnatural rigidity. The blood had long ceased to flow from the little wound above her heart, but the bosom of her dress was stiff with it.

The death-dealing weapon lay beside the body, close to the victim's right hand. It might have fallen from her fingers. But Blackwood doubted it. Beside the small revolver was the woman's handkerchief, a spot of filmy white against the black satin companion.

"Murder," repeated Blackwood, with increasing confidence. "No woman committing suicide ever staged a sprawl like that. It's too undignified. Of course, if you insist on suicide, it can be arranged," he added. "There are no fingerprints on the weapon, to be sure, but she might have pulled the trigger with her handkerchief."

"To keep the cold out?" Well, it's a good idea.

"A drink of water," said Latham seriously. He jerked a red thumb in the direction of the bed. "Ever see her before?"

The drama critic of The Morning Chronicle shook his head. "Hard to say, that's all. She isn't an actress, she's a concert singer. Radio, too, maybe—I don't know."

"She wasn't at that party of yours upstairs, I suppose?" Netherole fired the question suddenly. "She wasn't. Sorry. I told you I'd never seen the girl before. She may have been invited and stayed awhile. It's the sort of place one might expect to find her. I'll ask when I go back."

"You're going back upstairs?" "If I don't," said Blackwood.

"You'll have the whole party down here on your necks. I was appointed a committee of one to find out what had happened. Because I know the police. That was the suggestion, anyway. But do I really know you, Netherole?"

The big policeman grinned. "They're curious, eh? Any one of them in particular? We're likely to be up there ourselves, if we don't find anything down here."

"You agree, then, that this is murder?" "I congratulate you," smiled Riley Blackwood. "Come upstairs and I'll introduce you. There may even be some of the police there, although I can't honestly recommend it."

He eyed the detective with amusement and with some mistrust then sounded a note of warning.

"I don't know what your plans are, Netherole, but just remember that this is Saturday night. The chances are that other bands of half-wits also are making merry in this building. It's a big building, for that matter. It's a big world, and the man—or woman—who did this may just as well have come from the street, as from one of the apartments. These are words of wisdom—I give them freely. Ponder—reflect—meditate! For your information, the doorman is off duty at twelve o'clock. Entrance after that hour is obviously no trick. And I may add that self-operating elevators are singularly noncommittal. Just the same—he reflected, it would be rather fun if this crime could be traced to one of Janice's notorious nuisances. Percy Jones, for instance. How very jolly!

Percy had been conspicuously late in making an appearance, and his tale had been none too plausible. What happier solution of his tardiness than that he had been quietly committing murder in a neighboring apartment? Blackwood was pleased with the idea. For a moment he even considered mentioning it. But the impulse passed in the events of the next few minutes. (To Be Continued)
